In the psychiatric unit they kill other TI's who refuse medication, they threaten other patients with violence, intimidation, force, they threatened to lacerate my skull, however I have untraceable bonds. I figured out SF-24 Bid Bonds and the other things that were trade secrets such as UCC-1, Treasury Direct Accounts, Secured Party Creditors Process, Avoiding Capital Gains Tax, we are Slaves Period.

I was in a car accident and went to hospital. When in hospital they tried to inject me with everything from tetanus to hep B for my safety of course I refused everytime. one night in hospital I was woken from my sleep in intense pain on the wound on my head I begged for pain relief the "DR" who came in to inject me with "fentanyl" Had a huge needle (still have the scar) I was happy after the needle as the pain stopped instantly.. Then they sent a 'psychiatrist' to me who then threw me into a metal hospital for no reason he just asked me about my depression I had years ago and then boom im in the nuthouse. After I got out I stopped taking the meds because I dont need them and stopped seeing the psychs because I dont need to go and dont have time with work.

Well thats when they started harassing me with electronic shit through the walls of my house and bullying me where ever I go. They try to run me off the road damage my property tell my neighbors I'm a pedophile, drug dealer, terrorist etc. Thank fuck I have my wife I feel sorry for anyone who has to face this shit on their own.

All because I'm a critical thinker.

It's sad to see that anyone can be placed on this list and people in our society are basically disposable, before we had firing squads, now we do it covertly in a hospital.

Dude the worst part is everyone is so busy all the time (I though technology freed up time?) that no one has the time to care of even think that this is even possible.
Just try having a conversation with anyone about government corruption its near impossible.
Even if something comes on the TV all the NPC's will just parrot "it must be a isolated incident im sure someone will be losing their job"
How do you know that "oh because thats what they do"
How do you know that "your crazy".
Its all the police shows and secret agent movies that have them brainwashed.
